VISITOR IMPRESSED

Treasurer of the United States Talks of Santa Fe's Present and Its Glorious Future.

Sufficient Incentive for Manufacturing Enterprises—Condition of the U. S. Treasury and Eastern Banks During the War—The New Bonds.

Hon. Ellis H. Roberts, treasurer of the United States, in speaking of his impressions of Santa Fe, said to a New Mexican representative yesterday:

"I was much interested in the old Spanish, Pueblo and Mexican relics, etc., shown in the various churches and other places here. The possibilities of the surrounding country must strike the most casual visitor. Of course the mixture of the population is curious, but the character of the incoming immigration augurs well for the future and must impress those hoping for the early development of the city and neighborhood."

"In considering the close proximity of coal and the natural products of the section, one would suppose that Santa Fe is a natural manufacturing center, and that the city is near enough to the great trunk lines of the country to warrant a considerable investment along these lines."

Relative to existing financial conditions and the effect of war on the money market, Mr. Roberts said:

"While the war interferes with investments in new enterprises, general prosperity prevails throughout the land, both in manufacturing and trading.
The iron interest, which is considered one of the paramount institutions of the commercial world, was never stronger and could not promise more for the immediate future. The banks of New York and the east generally are in better condition than they have been in years.
This is true, not only in the cities, but also in the rural districts, wherever banks are maintained."

"The national treasury has met and is meeting all war demands with great ease. Doubtless the new bonds which are to be provided for carrying on the war will be distributed in small sums to the common people throughout the land.
In the agricultural states, and particularly in the wheat and corn growing sections, large sums of money are awaiting opportunities for purchasing these securities. In this manner no serious loss is shown the wealthy class and a safe means of investing money is given the poor man with some money saved.
This system has been tried in France with singular success, and it has a tendency to unite the whole people under one form of government and to induce them to put forth all their efforts toward the perpetual maintenance of the government. The Republican party is making such a record during this crisis as has never been approached by a previous administration, for the government, and not the people, are in danger of defeat and conditions, in reality, show that the masses are relieved rather than distressed."

"Referring back to Santa Fe, the publication of a newspaper, such as the NEW MEXICAN, is very commendable in a city possessing so few American inhabitants. In this manner no serious
the poor man with some money saved.
This system has been tried in France
the perpetual maintenance of the gov-
and conditions, in reality, show that
tressed."

"On another trip to Santa Fe I hope to see a canning factory, sugar factory, woolen mill and other similar institutions in operation, for the indications are that manufacturing enterprises can be introduced here with profit."

"Governor Otero, Solicitor General Bailett and Adjutant General Whitman were especially kind to us during our visit, as was Judge McFie and were our citizens. I shall carry with me very pleasant recollections of Santa Fe."

Mr. Roberts is a very affable gentleman, and possesses an attractive appearance and magnetic manner. Kindness and good will fairly beam from his countenance while conversing and the listener is impressed that he knows what he is talking about and means every word of it. A few words from him create a good impression and binds the listener with a tie of respect and friendship. During his few hours' stay in the city he made many friends who will look forward to his return with pleasure.

Mr. Roberts and wife, accompanied by C. E. Hantz, assistant cashier of the United States treasury, and James A.
Sampson, chief of the division of the department, proceeded to San Francisco last night, where they will be present at the turning over of the United States sub-treasury there to the new assistant treasurer.

Court of Private Land Claims.
At this morning's session the arguments in case No. 179, the Juan Bautista ing and case was taken under advisement peared for the claimants.

Thursday, June 16. This is the case of the Sanguilla grant of 20,000 acres 1820 and claimed by Alexander Gra-lachowski et al. This grant lies within the Las Vegas grant and the trial of the cause involves the question of the extent to which the latter was confirmed by congress. The claimants of the Las Vegas grant claim that the confirmation was for about 500,000 acres, while the general land office contends that title was passed by the act of congress only to such lands as had been actually allotted, comprising only a few thousand acres. Judge Laughlin is the attorney for the claimants of the Sanguilla grant.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon case No.
